

Woman is born to create...
In creating she becomes herself,
Accomplishes her destiny.
Her whole life is only an invitation into the creative power.
To create is not merely to produce a work...
It is to give out one's own individuality.
Woman becomes creator when,
after the innumerable stages
of adaptation to alien influence,
she finally grasps what is really her own.
When she receives, not from men, but directly from God as a special personal message.

October Colour of the month

Opal & Tourmaline

The October birthstone Opal is one of the most lustrous and radiant of gems – an ever-changing depth of fiery iridescence – ever refracting, ever reflecting, always giving wonder and delight. And it just might possibly be the perfect gift!

The ancient Greeks recognize the 'opal' as a sign of purity and hope. Opal is a stone of peace and tranquility for the aura. It is especially noted for its energies in healing emotions. The ancient Romans believed opals kept the wearer safe from harm.

Opals fit perfectly into all the phases of life – birth, setting forth, romance and giving, learning and loving, aging gracefully and contentment.

One of the highest qualities of opals is their timeless beauty. Giving your loved one a pink opal birthstone is as much an investment as a gift of love. Some of the finest specimens cost more per carat than diamonds.

Although opals are classified as a semi-precious stone, their value has increased up to 30% over the last few years increasing their desirability for many collectors and investors.
